Sheriffs Meet With Committee

JACKSON, Miss. — Representatives of the Mississippi Sheriffs Association met with a special legislative committee set up to recommend laws to permit sheriffs to succeed themselves in counties where the offices of sheriff and tax collector are separated.

A spokesman for the sheriffs said they were on hand to answer questions from the 9-member House-Senate committee and did not plan to make a presentation of recommendations from the sheriffs, who favor succession legislation.

A committee source said the committee wanted to discuss how sheriffs financed their offices now and how they planned to finance them under a salary process. "We would like to see a salary system, under which sheriffs keep a percentage of taxes collected and use this to pay themselves and their office costs."

The committee, authorized by the legislature last month, elected Rep. Buddie Newman of Isona, Hancock County as chairman in its organization meeting here Tuesday. Sen. M. E. Boyles of Charleston was elected secretary.

"No policy decisions were reached Tuesday," Newman told newsmen after the nine-member group met. "We are now getting information from various sources."

The committee is expected to reveal recommendations to the legislature shortly after Feb. 6, a deadline set by lawmakers earlier.

Newman indicated some of the major decisions facing the committee were how to let each county indicate whether it wants to separate the offices of sheriff and tax collector — a prerequisite to letting the county's sheriff succeed himself; and what office should take over tax collecting duties in the counties which do take tax collecting duties from the sheriff.

Newman said the committee heard Kamp King of the state auditor's office at its first session and got information from him about the income of sheriffs.

Tax assessors will be heard by the committee at a later date. The sheriffs have backed the move to separate the offices and let sheriffs run for re-election.

Among the plans which have been discussed was one to let tax assessors take over tax collecting duties in counties which separate the offices, which would free the sheriff's office.

"The committee is determined to do what is in the best interest of the people of Mississippi in county fiscal matters," Newman said.

STATE EXPECTS BANNER YEAR

Record breaking business for 1962 and bright outlooks for 1963 are predicted in high quarters for Jackson and the State of Mississippi.

Hugh Ahern, information officer for the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta, put it this way in a recently published report:

"Mississippi businessmen are looking forward with confidence to 1963 bolstered by the fact that the year 1962 brought a high level of activity and the decade of the '50s produced sharp expansions in virtually all major segments of the state's economy."

Mr. Ahern, in his observation, went on to recount many areas of record-breaking business activity in Mississippi and optimism for the new year.

Despite all the doom and gloom peddled for Mississippi all around the country, it is a pleasure to live in a state that is thriving on all fronts.

Cakes, Candles, Commemorations Light March of Dimes 25th Year

Throughout the nation this month candles will be lit on birthday cakes to symbolize the 25th anniversary of the March of Dimes.

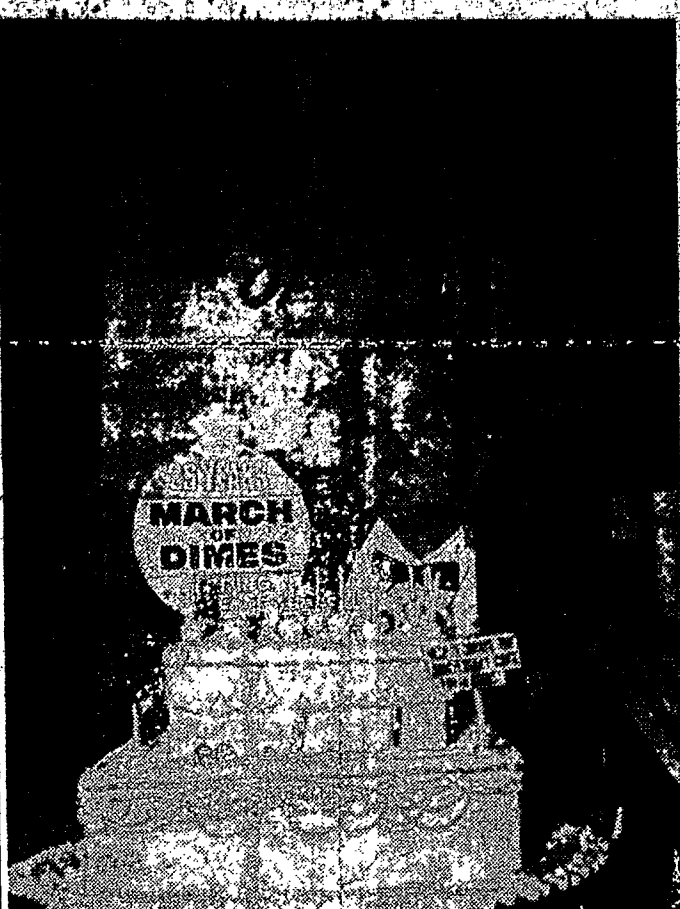

The cakes will range from real ones of conventional size to monster, multi-tiered models as much as 12 feet in height and 10 feet in diameter—the approximate dimensions of the one to be erected in New York City's famed Times Square. Guests at anniversary events around the country, where cakes will be of more modest proportions, will be invited to decorate them with coins for the March of Dimes.

Many "parties" commemorating a quarter of a century of disease fighting will be held at special treatment centers for birth defects, arthritis and polio which March of Dimes contributions are financing today in more than 40 cities across the U.S. Other gatherings will be held in county chapter offices of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, in the homes of volunteers and elsewhere.

In many instances, guests at these campaign "kickoffs" will include governors or their wives, mayors and outstanding authorities in health fields. Other guests will be Americans of all ages who received March of Dimes aid during and after polio epidemics and outbreaks. Also present will be children and adolescents who have been treated at these March of Dimes centers.

To raise the millions required every year for patient aid and research in birth defects, arthritis and polio, each March of Dimes campaign is carefully planned months ahead. There are millions of contribution envelopes and coin collectors to be distributed around the nation; hundreds of thousands of posters to be erected in every hamlet, town and city; two million volunteers to be organized for the Mothers' March (the climax to the campaign at the end of January), and March of Dimes films to exhibit to explain the work of the voluntary health organization.

Arrangements must be completed for the visit in January of the National March of Dimes

Jimmy Boggess, 5, of Coy, Ark., the 1963 National March of Dimes Child, blows out candles on birthday cake symbolizing first 25 years of aid to the crippled by the health organization.

Child—who this year is Jimmy Boggess, 5, Coy, Ark.—with President Kennedy at the White House and with various Senators and Congressmen and other dignitaries as well as with personalities of the stage, screen and television.

Special events for the March of Dimes are staged in all the big cities, many lesser ones and in some small towns. These include March of Dimes bowling tournaments, with "roll-offs" to select a national man or woman champion, fashion shows, auctions, telegrams, Coffee Days, Tag Days and street sales, neighborhood bread sales, air-lifts and a long list of sports activities.

The theme of the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes which is "Give for the Life of a Child," will be stressed in all these special events, and the story told of the first 25 years of the organization. Highlights of that story are: Patients aided, 338,000; expended for the medical care program, $385,500,000; for scientific research, $73,800,000; and for professional education, $38,000,000.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, referred in a recent speech to the 25th anniversary of the health agency. "Most certainly we take pride in our past 25 years, and we rejoice. But deep down we really think of that quarter of a century as only the springboard for our future."

There will be a benefit, given by the Clermont Harbor Civics Association, at 8 p. m. at the Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center, to help provide for better fire protections in Clermont.

Miss Ann Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Proctor of Clermont Harbor, and Mr. Howard Franks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Franks of New Orleans are to be wed Saturday, February 9 at 11 a. m. in Our Lady of the Gulf Church, Bay St. Louis.

CO. SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES BILLS

All bills on docket for this month of December were approved for payment by the Hancock County Board of Education at its meeting Thursday afternoon.

On motion by S. P. Powell, the superintendent of education, was asked to request J. A. Mills, Gulfport district manager of the United Gas Company, to service North Central School with gas.

The board also designed bus number 9 to be used by North Central Athletic club.

The board adjourned until 2:30 p. m. January 15.

PAUYADUE RITES HELD MONDAY

Funeral services for Victor Pauyadue, who died at 3:15 a. m. Saturday, January 12, in New Orleans, were held Monday from 9 to 11 a. m. at the funeral home of Emile J. Labat Jr., Funeral Home with a Requiem Mass at Holy Redeemer Church. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Bay St. Louis.

He was the husband of Mrs. Louise Wells Pauyadue, father of Mrs. Catherine Mollah, Curtis Rhinolle and Alwayne Pauyadue; brother of Mrs. Elizabeth Saucier, Mrs. Marguerite Pironnet and Alphonse Pauyadue of Bay St. Louis. Survivors include 11 grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Bordages, who will take Miss Ann Proctors place.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Horace Johnson and family by their mother, Mrs. Ulysee Chagnard passed away last week, and to Mrs. Annabell Proctor and family whose aunt Miss Ada Flam-brough also passed away.

Now I have a question to put before all you teenagers. Why has Miss Gaynell Ladner seemed to be so sad and blue as of this past week? Maybe because of six weeks tests coming up. Well! Could be, but I can think of a much more logical reason. Her steady, Steve Church, has been confined to bed due to illness.

But in all seriousness we wish to extend Steve get well wishes and a very speedy recovery.

Mrs. Janice Parker was feted with a baby shower at the Methodist Fellowship Hall Saturday, January 12, given by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Burch Bankston Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Remmers and children Nancy and Richard, who have been in Alaska for the past three years where Mr. Remmers has been stationed with the Army Base at Fort Richardson, returned home January 7.

They are now residing in their home in Arabi, La.

Last but not least all the teenagers of this and surrounding communities wish to extend very special get well wishes to Mrs. Cyril Glover, who has devoted much of her time for us teenagers. Mrs. Glover has been hospitalized for quite some time due to illness.

Big Plans Made At Nac

NEW ORLEANS, January 11.—Chrysler Corporation Space Division scientists are planning to "shoot" 21 Saturn S-I boosters into space without a single one leaving the ground.

At the vast Michoud Operations facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Marshall Space Flight Center here, where Chrysler engineers are constructing simulated flight test facilities to duplicate in every detail the actual flight of a Saturn C-I space vehicle.

When completed, the facility will be able to test four Saturn S-I boosters at one time.

"The flight simulation program is exciting and intensive. For 30 days, engineers will conduct on each booster a 'pre-flight' examination of all the responses that could take place on an actual shoot. As many as 50,000 possible flight conditions can be created," H. Douglas Lowrey, Chrysler Space Division president, said.

Simulation programs will go something like this: A date to begin testing will be set for each Saturn booster as it leaves its final assembly line checkout. For instance it could be known as D-minus 37, corresponding to the number of days in each test cycle.

For the first seven days, the vehicle will be studied for the alignment of its parts. Test cables from the checkout consoles will be installed and the booster will be mated to a simulated upper stage. At D-minus 30, vehicle checkout begins. Test systems, action, radio console, and test frames, which will be used by instruments and by computers to ensure that every part of the vehicle is working properly. Each will have 50,000 different parts, all of which must be tested perfectly at the same time. Lowrey pointed out.

Then the count-down takes place in a simulated launch, exactly as it will in the live launch at Cape Canaveral, except for actual feeling and looking.

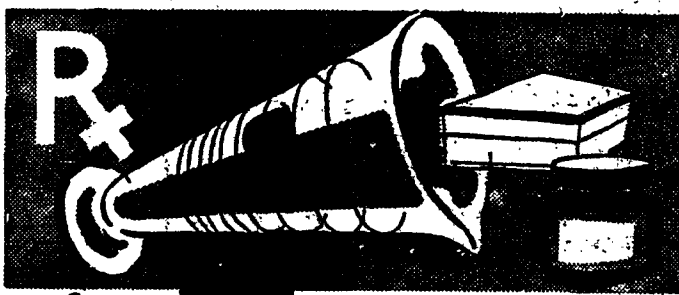

This count-down takes approximately three days. Then the Saturn is "launched" while the myriad of lights, flicker, their messages, telemetry tapes, record flight and other data, computers hum, and scores of other instruments relate vehicle behavior.

In approximately 170 seconds it's all over. The mighty Saturn is ready for its static test firing.

"Following that, the Saturn is ready for shipment to Cape Canaveral for actual space flight. The intensive test program is aimed at this actual flight," Mr. Lowrey said.

DO YOU NEED DIRECTIONS?

Public libraries today are filled with "how to do it" books. From them we may learn to do almost anything from baking a cake to building a house, from managing a home to conducting a business. But by far the most important are the books which show us how to build our lives.

The greatest among these is the Bible, a book which has withstood the test of centuries. Within it are God's directions for abundant living. But it is not easy to put these directions into practice. We need help.

We turn to the Church. In the Church we find inspiration through the companionship of others who with us strive for a better life. There, in prayer and worship, we know the blessings of God, the Father. We learn to follow the example of the Christ, and feel the power of His Spirit who alone enables us to live the abundant life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hunters can close and put their guns away until next winter as the only season still open are quail and rabbits. Quail hunting is a wonderful sport but calls for good dogs, well trained and taken care of. It is rather expensive to

On the fishing side the past weekend was rough on fishermen. Freezing weather put a damper on fishing. However, some specks were caught in the harbor at Pass Christian with plugs and a few small ones at Bayou Caddy. Fishing should improve as the weather gets warmer. Fresh water fish should come into their own and fly casting should be at its best. The waters most everywhere right now are clear. However, trolling with underwater baits should prove the best at this time.

One of our most recent quail hunters is "Woody" Harry Grove who says it's a pleasure to work with birds dogs whether you get any birds or not. Of course Woody and his well trained dogs get their share of quail during the open season. For those who don't know it's a thrill to watch bird dogs work. One dog will point the birds and the other will back stand. Bird dogs are intelligent and will flush the quail on command and will find and retrieve dead birds. Quail hunting is a real sport. There are not many quail hunters in our midst. Talk to some of them and get a class on what quail hunting really is.

The woodcock season in both Mississippi and Louisiana has closed. Tuesday was the last day in Louisiana. Joe Kern and his buddies got their share of woodcock during the open season. "Pretty Boy" Joe's Labrador retriever did a good job of hunting and retrieving dead birds. Labradors are exceptionally large black dogs and take to water like ducks. In retrieving ducks they can't be beat, and can be trained to retrieve most any dead game. Naturally they are the hunters best friend.

The quail (Bob White) season is the last season to close in Mississippi. The season opened on Dec. 1, and closes February 8, Feb. 8th is the closing season on rabbits although rabbits may be killed the year round with sticks and dogs.

According to hunters, rabbits are not too good to eat during the warmer months.

The deer season is also closed. According to our local game warden, Nolan Ladner 17 deer were killed during the second part of the season in Hancock County. Deer hunting is also an interesting sport and we have quite a few deer hunters in our midst. Honey Island swamp is a favorite deer hunting place.

On the fishing side the past weekend was rough on fishermen. Freezing weather put a damper on fishing. However, some specks were caught in the harbor at Pass Christian with plugs and a few small ones at Bayou Caddy. Fishing should improve as the weather gets warmer. Speaking of green trout Al Vetter did it again. He caught a 4 pound green trout last week. The old boy must have been in Ted Lyman's lake a long time. Al also caught some real big perch.

Joe Cook Kellar was telling us of the 4 1/2 pound green trout he caught last week in his pond. Joe said at first he thought he had hooked a log, but when the old boy put up a fight he knew he had something big.

He also said it was a thrill of his life time. Know what you mean, Joe.

Frank Trapani, Lloyd Ladner and others from the Bay motored to New Orleans Monday night to attend the Ralph Dugas-Hocky Handball tournament at Harvey, La. Ralph won by a 3-0 in the 8th round. We know Frank was glad.

Another steak supper was enjoyed Saturday night at Pass Christian Golf Club. The weather was cold but the steaks were just the opposite. Certainly a good time was had as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion (Babe) Thompson of Memphis, Tenn., visited their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robinson during the holidays. "Babe" is an ardent fisherman and spends some time each spring at Grand Isle in Louisiana, but promised to try our waters hereabouts on his next trip down. Will be looking for you.

There's no place like home said one fish to the other after he landed in the frying pan. Moral: If you keep your mouth shut it's easy to stay at home said the other.

Blue gill perch are just another of the perch family they are plentiful in our waters hereabouts and reach a good size. A little later on blue gills will be hitting at their best especially on the fly rod and surface baits. They are also caught on live bait, such as minnows, small crawfish, worms, etc. They are excellent for eating and are real fighters when hooked.

Miss Joan Chapman was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of sky-blue peau de soie. The bodice featured a scooped neckline with three quarter length sleeves gathered below the elbow. Her head-piece was a matching blue rose with a circular veil, and she carried a cascade of blue feathered carnations.

Leslie Pepperdene served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Arthur Chapman III, Thomas and Richard Chapman.

The mantle, which formed the background for the receiving line at the reception in the Parish Hall following the ceremony, was decorated with a fan-shaped arrangement of white blossoms and greenery.

The mother of the bride assisted in receiving their guests wearing a blue brocade taffeta dress with matching jacket, a small hat of blue velvet leaves and lighter blue accessories. A corsage of white carnations was pinned to her shoulder.

The mother of the groom wore a pale green jersey dress, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Chapman Sr., chose a printed silk sheath in shades of brown and beige and brown accessories. A shoulder bouquet of white feathered carnations completed her ensemble.

The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth, was centered with a four-tiered ice blue wedding cake adorned with ice-blue roses and white velvet leaves. A gold cross with double wedding rings embedded in a cluster of roses topped the cake, a ruffle of ice-blue tulle with white chrysanthemums and leatherleaf fern circled the cake.

Mrs. George Maurin, Donaldsonville, La., aunt of the bride, served the cake and another aunt, Mrs. R. C. Blanchard, presided at the punch bowl. Teagirls were Misses Sally Hubbard, Karen Creel and Susan Harrison.

For traveling the bride wore a tangerine wool suit trimmed with a mink collar, brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 3014 Louisiana Ave., Parkway, New Orleans.

Mrs. Pepperdene, a graduate of St. Joseph Academy, was formerly employed by her father in the Chapman Business Service. Mr. Pepperdene, a graduate of St. Stanislaus, served two years in the United States Navy. He is employed by the Accurate Letter Company, New Orleans.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Blanchard and daughters of Donaldsonville, La. Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard and daughter, M. A. Blanchard and Mrs. Jean Burnett, all of Baton Rouge, Armand LeBlanc, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chapman, Lake Charles, Mrs. Thomas Cody and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burst and daughters, Jackson, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fuente and Mrs. Ronald Capdepon and daughters, Gulfport, and Tomas Fuente, Mexico City.

The guest list also included a number of friends and relatives from New Orleans.
